REHABILITATION WORK FOR THE TAGBANUAS OF CULION, PALAWAN

To provide a conducive learning environment for Cartwheel’s learners and ensure a secure place where families can evacuate in times of calamity, the construction of Disaster Resilient Multi-Purpose Evacuation Halls (MPEH) in the island communities of Alulad, Cagait and Chidonanan has been identified as a priority project by Cartwheel and other development partners working in Cullion, led by La Inmaculada Parish, Simbahang Lingkod ng Bayan and the Ateneo DReaM Team.

Together with OCB Architects and Solar Solutions, community consultations on the design of the MPEH were conducted in May 2014 to ensure that the structures would be suited to the needs and cultural lifeways of the Tagbanua communities for which they will be built.

In response to the immensity of the need from calamities that affected the nation in the year 2013, such as Typhoon Haiyan, Cartwheel -- fueled by the outpouring of help from its supporters from around the world -- mobilized emergency relief efforts for communities in Cebu, Iloilo, Samar, Leyte and Palawan, as shown in the figures below.
